

This item contains the Dublin core metadata attributes and Curatescape item type metadata fields for a story from the Ports, Past and Present archived collection on the digital repository of Ireland. It has been provided in .odt format for easy copy and pasting.

For more information about the Ports, Past and Present Project, see

<https://portspastpresent.eu/>.

For more information about Omeka Classic, see <https://omeka.org/classic/>.

For more information about Curatescape, its Omeka plugin suite and this item type metadata schema, see <https://curatescape.org/>.

For a .csv containing tabular data for all stories, see the larger collection at <https://doi.org/10.7486/DRI.ht259b362>.

For an archived snapshot of the story as it appeared between 2020 and 2023 on <https://portspastpresent.eu/>, see the Relation field below.

Dublin Core

Title

The Orient B&B, Holyhead

Subject

Holyhead

Hospitality

Creator

Thuy My Thuyen Ho

Publisher

Ports, Past and Present Project

Date

2023

Rights

CC BY 4.0 International License

Relation

<https://perma.cc/CM8V-JUBX>

Format

Curatescape story

Language

English

Coverage

53.312759848676194, -4.639221733735916

Curatescape Story Item Type Metadata

Lede

This family run B&B in Holyhead offers warm hospitality and fantastic food

Story

T. J. moved to Holyhead with two generations of her family in 2022. Originally from Vietnam they moved first to Belgium (yes, she speaks Flemish, and is learning Welsh), and then to Manchester. They have found the perfect mix of what they loved about all those places in their new home town. Holyhead first came to T. J.'s attention because her parent's loved coming to line fish mackerel from the rocks. When moving here with her parents, they came with the idea of starting a hospitality business and fate drew them to a beautiful house, which has become their thriving B&B.

They arrived in May, gave the building some upgrades (these continue and will be ongoing where possible) and managed, miraculously opened their doors to visitors in just a few months. A quick glance at their Visitors' Book will make it clear that everyone who walks through the door is treated with kindness and warmth from their excellent host. The B&B is family friendly, and they also offer (with advanced booking) Vietnamese delights for lunch and dinner. A steaming bowl of Pho will warm any damp hiker or fishers' heart, or indeed, bid a delicious welcome to those arriving over the Irish Sea.

Factoid

Related Resources

<https://theorient.wales/>

Official Website