Dear Betty,

Benjamin and Hannah Thomas are quite wrong!!
I am fairly certain after studying the photos that it is a 'tavern token' from the Horse and Groom Inn.
(The final m of groom is quite clear.) What looks like a B on the back of the token is actually 3D.

There were three 'pub tokens' issued by different landlords of the Horse & Groom: John George in the 1860s, Evan Evans c.1870 and Lewis Jenkins in the 1880s.

The landlord's name is at the top. I think I can see L.Jenkins (an N is clear) - but I can't be sure.

There are fine examples in the British Museum and the National Museum in Cardiff.
The reference is Neil B.Todd, Tavern Tokens in Wales
(National Museum of Wales, 1980), nos 61,62 and 63.

Yours sincerely,

Brian

Notice of this piece was provided by Mr. Durnell (personal communication) from an old written record. No Cross Inn, Church Village has been found. A Cross Inn at nearby (less than 1 mile) Llantwit Vardre has been traced ...1871...1884..., but there is no assurance that this is the establishment in question. The only Jabez Evans traced in the area was, in ...1865..., a butter merchant at Rhiw Cottage, Pontypridd.
