Welcome! Croeso!
to St Teilo's Church and to our
Festival of Flowers & Music
To the Glory of God

The flowers at the altar, in the chancel, near the lectern and pulpit, in the Lady Chapel, church windows and font areas were arranged by Mrs Gloria Davies, NAFAS Area Demonstrator, made during a flower arrangement demonstration, accompanied by a programme of music.

The porch, foyer, and centre panel arrangements in the church are the work of ladies from Holy Trinity Talaris and St Teilo's Church Llandeilo.

The Porch

1 & 2 The gentle blues, greens and white colours of larkspur, carnations, palms, bullrushes and ivy which make up the two identical arrangements here welcome you into the peace and tranquillity of this church which stands on the site where Christ has been worshipped for over 1500 years.

The Foyer designs are inspired by the church's connection with the Lord Rhys, who lived in Dinefwr Castle and who founded the National Eisteddfod of Wales in the 12th century. The white lilies, white and green carnations with blue larkspur echo the colours of bardic robes.

3 Llandyfeisant Church Font: Seven glorious white lilies surrounded by larkspur, carnations, palms, mollucella (Bells of Ireland), mahonia leaves and ivy make up this glorious arrangement

4 Welcome desk: A delicate triangular posy consisting of the same blue, white and green flowers with green foliage.

5 Memorial Desk: A striking low arrangement of deep blues, whites and greens continue the Eisteddfod theme.

In church turn left to centre panels, where the seven colours of the RAINBOW, each linked with steel grass, are represented:

He was as the morning star in the midst of a cloud and as the moon at the full. As the sun shining upon the temple of the Most High and as the rainbow giving light in the bright clouds. And as the flower of roses in the spring of the year, as lilies by the rivers of water and as the branches of the frankincense trees in the time of summer. As fire and incense in the censur and as a vessel of beaten gold set with all manner of precious stones. Ecclesiasticus 50:6-9

6 PURPLE/VIOLET - carnations and heather, with teasels, rushes, fennel, palms, copper beech, figs, and ivy - and the legendary crock of gold!

7 INDIGO - a silvery moon overlooks the scabious, love-in-the-mist, larkspur, cornflower, teasels, angelica, cordyline loops, palms, artemisia and ivy.

8 BLUE - delphinium, larkspur, eringium, roses, senecio and palms are arranged beneath the "bright clouds" in the blue above.

9 GREEN - carnations, mollucella, palms, phlomis and ivy with dog rose stems forming a golden cross over all.

10 YELLOW - the summer sun is reflected in this arrangement of lilies, carnations and chrysanthemums, with bullrushes, angelica, fennel, yucca, cones, ivy and vines.

11 ORANGE - carnations, lilies, and daisy chrysanthemums, with cypripedium, papyrus, palms, ivy, hazel nuts and cinnamon sticks, and a cross which carries echoes of the spice frankincense used in the burial of the dead.

12 RED - carnations and roses are mixed with cotinus, berberis, palms, copper beech, ivy, bergenia and aspidistra, with rosy red apples and brambles to add to the richness of the arrangement.

13 The Lectern Tello, cousin of St David, founded the first church on this site. Red carnations and roses and green amaranthus are used, together with apples, apricots ('golden apples') and grapes which remind us of Teilo's connection with Brittany, where he planted orchards and vineyards.

I said I will go up to the palm tree, I will take hold of the boughs thereof, now also thy breasts shall be as cluster of the vine and the smell of thy nose like apples. Song of Songs 7:8

14 The Altar & Memorial Window Saints Nicholas, David, Teilo and Leonard, together with scenes of the crucifixion and resurrection of our Lord, Christian warriors and symbols of courage, justice, mercy and especially peace have inspired these magnificent arrangements using white flowers with juniper, bay and cypress, and palms, symbols of peace in Scripture.

And they came to Elim where were twelve wells of water and three score and ten palm trees and they encamped there by the waters. Exodus 15:27

15 Sanctuary Window

Simple white carnations and lilies continue the theme of peace on the earth, with two mossy spheres to represent the 'earth', and doves of peace. Glory to God in the highest... and peace on earth to men on whom his favour rests. Luke 2:14

16 Organ & Choir Stalls St Teilo's Church is renowned for its musical tradition, represented here in a rich arrangement incorporating roses, chrysanthemums, pomegranates, apricots and figs... and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as a rose - it shall blossom abundantly and rejoice even with joy and singing. Isaiah 35:1&2

17 Pulpit

A smaller version of the Lectern arrangement, set near the pulpit to emphasise St Teilo's gifts as an evangelist and preacher in 6th century Wales. A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver. Proverbs 25:11

18 Lady Chapel The ancient Celtic cross standing in this restful place forms the background to an interpretation of Christ on the cross, while the side window features lilies for the Virgin Mary, and willow for tranquillity and peace. The shady trees cover Him with their shadow, the willows of the brook compass Him about. Job 40:22

19 Children's Window Jesus' special relationship with children is reflected in this beautiful arrangement in blues and pinks, of roses, lilies and ivy. Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God. Luke 18:17

20 St Luke's Window Yellow and orange carnations and larkspur, with healing herbs, vegetables, fruits and spices, illustrate the life and work of St Luke, writer of his Gospel and the Book of Acts, and Patron Saint of Physicians. The plants are an orchard of pomegranates, with pleasant fruits, camphire, with spikenard and saffron, calamus, and cinnamon, with trees of frankincense, myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices. Song of Songs 4:13-14

21 Nativity Window An inspired interpretation of the manger scene, using lilies and roses, frankincense and myrrh to reflect the Christmas theme. ... when they were come into the stable they saw the young child with Mary his mother and fell down and worshipped him and when they had opened their treasure, they presented unto him gifts of gold, frankincense and Myrrh. Matt 2:7

22 Llandyfeisant Window Blue scabious and delphinium, green mollucella and white carnations, together with Quercus Rober (oak, which grows profusely in these parts) and typha (reeds) are used in this design which links the Llandyfeisant Church War Memorial window with the Lord Rhys and the Dinefwr family on whose estate the church, dedicated to St Dyfeil, was built. ... that they might be called oaks of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified. Isaiah 61:3
A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgement unto truth. Isaiah 42:3

23 & 24 The Font (12th century Norman) & Information Point Garlands of white carnations and lilies, sea eringium and typha are used to give the impression of the water used in baptism. And as the flower of roses in the spring of the year, as lilies by the rivers of waters and as the branches of the frankincense tree in the time of summer. Ecclesiasticus 50:8

But whosoever drinketh of the water I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life. John 4:14

GO FOR IT...

Car-hire price hike, Paris by Corsican bombers target holiday villas

Wouldn't you rather be on holiday? Here are five good reasons just to pack up and go...

In one week: you could be soaking up the culture at this year's Llandello Fawr Festival of Music (llandellomusicfestival.org.uk), in Carmarthenshire, which is gaining a reputation as one of the best classical events in Britain. The headline act is the pin-up violin virtuoso Alexander Markov, but the highlight is an open-air performance of Mozart's Così fan tutte at the National Trust's Newton House. Concert tickets range from free to £30. Stay at Fronlas (01558 824733, fronlas.com), a boutique hotel where doubles start at £90, B&B.

In two weeks: you could be high in Rwanda's Volcanoes National Park, tracking mountain gorillas on a cut-price departure, with Steppes Discovery (01285 843333, steppesdiscovery.co.uk), which has a handful of precious gorilla permits on sale for just £175 — down from £500. Which gorillas you'll see depends entirely on your appearance: turn up looking fit and they'll send you to find the Karisimbi group, a full day's hike from the park's HQ. The five-day trip costs £2,700pp, including flights and all meals. Alternatively, you could be high in the Italian Dolomites, combining history with back-country up people's homes is another question. Will the attacks affect holidaymakers? "I think they could," said the property agent Laurent Benier. "If you are renting traditional houses in the villages, you will be completely safe. It is those renting the luxury modern beachside villas who are most at risk, although I emphasise that there is no personal danger to tourists themselves. The activists are targeting property rather than people, but I accept that having your villa blown up might spoil your trip."

Despite the devastating effect a bombing campaign could have on the island's tourism, few locals are willing to criticise the FLNC openly. "I cannot condemn the attack," said Winsorice Cuchi, president of a Bonifacio-based environmental group. "For 30 years the bombings have helped to prevent Corsica turning into the Côte d'Azur. They have stopped the mass urbanisation of our coastline."

The Foreign & Commonwealth Office does not advise against travel to Corsica, but reports "a number of explosions, failed explosions and other attacks", and warns that "attacks might escalate".

SUMMER FESTIVALS

GUY VAST, RENFARSAUL SP

Sense of place

Festivals are a unique way of celebrating wonderful venues and surroundings. Sarah Lambie picks four with particularly enviable settings

There are music festivals aplenty in the UK this summer. One of my favourite things about them is that they often centre around a beautiful venue: it seems that the fortunate inhabitants of quaint hilltop towns and owners of medieval banqueting halls or abbeys inaugurate music festivals in them, often without the help of large funding bodies, just as a means of sharing their lovely surroundings with the public. And I for one am jolly grateful, living as I do in central suburbia. I have a few suggestions this year, nicely spread across the kingdom, to encourage you to sample some musical delights away from home, in Scotland, Wales, or either side of England.

HATFIELD HOUSE CHAMBER MUSIC FESTIVAL, HERTFORDSHIRE

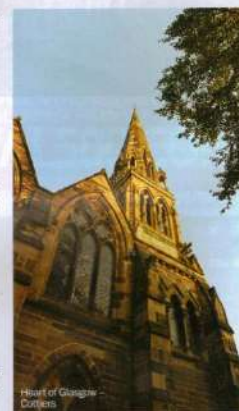

Ordnance Survey
Guy Johnston

Thanks to the enthusiasm of the Marquess of Salisbury, the 2012 Hatfield House Chamber Music Festival takes place in the beautiful and highly appropriate settings of Hatfield's Old Palace (built 1485), Marble Hall (within the house, built 1497, but restored in the 1700s) and St Etheldreda's Church (some parts of which date from the 13th century). As well as the music, therefore, the weekend offers a lovely opportunity to explore the historic house and gardens, including a sculpture exhibition by Xavier Veilhan. The festival launched in April with a concert given by Guy Johnston (the artistic director), Alasdair Bearson and Jack Liebeck at the Forge in Camden, featuring Ravel, Beethoven and Mendelssohn. At the festival itself, performers alongside those three are to include the Aronowitz Ensemble, the Navarra Quartet, Esther Hoppe, Mark Simpson, Tim Boulton, Tom Poster, Sophie Daneman and Dominic Harlan, with a final concert of Tudor and Jacobean church music and madrigals, and popular pieces by Britten and Tippett, to be given by 'The Sixteen'. A 2pm concert on the Friday entitled 'Bows and Arias' is aimed at schoolchildren, in association with the Wignore Hall's Learning project, and I'm particularly taken by the idea of Saturday's 4pm lecture, to be given by Professor Brian Foster of Oxford University with Jack Liebeck and Guy Johnston. Linking Einstein's love of the violin with many of the concepts of modern physics which he founded.

- Dates: 20-23 September 2012
- Venue: Hatfield House and grounds, Hertfordshire
- Tickets: Booking now open, online or on 01707357117, discount for all five concerts £90, otherwise tickets vary from £10-£29. Students half price.

COTTIER CHAMBER PROJECT, GLASGOW

Heart of Glasgow - Cottiers

The Cottier Chamber Project is part of Glasgow's West End Festival. Hosted by ensemble Daniel's Beard at Cottier's Theatre, the project includes performances by this and other groups of classical and folk musicians, as well as talks given by musicians and journalists. Twenty-two exclusively Scotland-based ensembles are this year to take part in 28 concerts through most of June, with ticket holders receiving a discount in the theatre's restaurant, and of course other elements of the West End Festival easily accessible. Programmes include works by Beethoven, Mozart, Ravel, Janáček, Marrini, Wilson, Sally Beamish and James MacMillan. As well as performances by such groups as Art Trio, the Da Vinci Trio, Arctic Winds, Red Note Ensemble, Sax Ecosse and the Dunedin Consort and Players, lectures are to be given on topics such as religion & music and music education by Scottish music journalists and broadcasters Michael Tumelty and Tom Service. Though not the proud wearer of one myself, I am excited to read that 'A beard like Brahms' gets you in free'. I do hope they mean it.

- Dates: 1-22 June 2012
- Venue: Cottier's Theatre, 93-95 Hyndlands Street, Glasgow
- Tickets: Booking now open, online or on 0141 357 4000. Advance purchases £7, tickets on the door £9. Students £5 and under 16s free, only available on the door, with exception of Children's Classic Concerts event on 2 June: under 16s £6 in advance.

LLANDEILO FAWR FESTIVAL, WALES

Llandeilo, perched atop a Welsh hill, was once a medieval capital of Wales, and sits within sight of three Norman castles, the fairytale-sounding Lost Gardens of Aberglaslyn, and the National Botanic Garden of Wales. Now in its 12th year, the festival has grown steadily, and this year is to feature performances from Alexander Markov and Heike Doerr, the Allegri Quartet and Armonico Consort, Elin Manahan-Thomas and Crispian Steele-Perkins, Rebecca Evans and Malcolm Martineau. As well as these classical concerts from ensembles, soloists and chamber choirs, the festival features jazz events this year, with performances by the Geoff Eales Trio and Humphrey Lyttleton Band with singer Tina May, and there are also organ recitals to be enjoyed, given by Huw Tregelles Williams and Meirion Wyn Jones. A Festival Service of choral matins is to be sung by the Festival Singers and Opera Box Company presents Così Fan Tutte at Dinefwr Park. Furthermore, Charles Hazlewood visits the festival to give a talk which he will illustrate himself at the piano. Finally, there is a flower festival on the theme of the St Teilo Gospels – a beautifully illustrated Biblical Manuscript with records made in the margins which constitute the earliest written examples of the Welsh language.

- Dates: 14-21 July 2012
- Venue: Various venues in Llandeilo Fawr, including St. Teilo's Church and National Trust property Newton House (Lord Hugo Dynevor of which is Patron of the festival).
- Tickets: Admission prices from free-£30
